

Edison International, and its affiliates, respects your privacy.

Edison International maintains strict privacy policies and uses state-of-the-art technologies to safeguard customer information.

What kind of information do we collect?

When you visit our Web site there are two kinds of information that we are likely to record:

1. Statistical information collected in the aggregate.

This is anonymous information on subjects such as: how many visitors come to our Web site, how they navigate through the site, which browsers they use to visit the site, etc.

2. Information that you knowingly supply to us.

When you apply for a grant, sponsorship, or in-kind donation on this Web site, Edison International collects information that helps us to identify your organization and understand the nature of your request for our consideration.

We do not sell or trade customer information.

Edison International will not sell or trade your information to any third party, absent authorization by you.

Security

All transfers of information on EDISON.COM are secured by the industry standard Secure Sockets Layer (SSL) protocol. SSL prohibits other Web users from gaining access to your personal information.

Linked Web Sites

The Edison International Web site may contain links to various other Web sites. Please be aware that these other sites may have privacy policies that differ from Edison International's. Edison International is in no way responsible for either the content that appears on linked sites, or your privacy once you have linked to other sites.

Updates

The information in this privacy policy may be periodically updated. We will post a new date in the event that the current policy is altered. This statement posted May 2006.
